About MMRHFH

Mission: Seeking to put God's love into action, Habitat for Humanity brings people together to build homes, communities, and hope.

IMacon Milledgeville Regional Habitat for Humanity (MMR Habitat), formerly Macon Area Habitat for Humanity, has been building homes, communities, and hope since 1986. Founded by a Sunday School class at Northminster Presbyterian Church as a faith-driven response to the need for affordable homeownership, the organization completed its first Habitat home in 1987 and has grown into a regional leader in affordable housing.

In 2026, following two years of successful collaboration, Macon Area Habitat for Humanity and Habitat for Humanity Milledgeville-Baldwin County officially merged to form Macon Milledgeville Regional Habitat for Humanity. Together, the two affiliates represent more than 70 years of local Habitat service and have partnered with more than 180 families through affordable homeownership and critical home repair programs across Macon-Bibb, Jones, and Baldwin counties.

MMR Habitat also operates the Habitat ReStore, which opened in 2006. Revenue from the sale of donated new and gently used home improvement materials helps fund the construction of affordable Habitat homes, allowing every purchase to directly support our mission. Guided by Habitat for Humanity's mission of seeking to put God's love into action, MMR Habitat brings together volunteers, donors, community partners, and future homeowners to build homes, communities, and hope throughout Macon and Milledgeville,

HOMEOWNERSHIP

Macon Milledgeville Regional Habitat for Humanity builds houses in partnership with families who demonstrate a need for housing, the ability to pay, and also a willingness to partner. These homes are sold, not given, to approved homeowner applicants. Moving into and owning a Habitat home improves the quality of life for its residents, not only in their physical surroundings but also by instilling a sense of pride and responsibility which comes with homeownership.

Macon Milledgeville Regional Habitat for Humanity's light more homes

Hosted by Mercer University

Every holiday season, Light More Homes transforms Mercer Village into one of Middle Georgia's favorite holiday destinations.

Families gather beneath more than 52,000 twinkling lights, drive through Candy Cane Lane, and make lasting holiday memories – all while supporting affordable homeownership in our community.

More than a Christmas light display, Light More Homes is a celebration of hope. Funds raised help Habitat literally "light more homes" by providing the electrical work for Habitat homes built for families across Macon-Bibb, Jones, and Baldwin counties.

What began as a beloved display at Chick-fil-A on Tom Hill Sr. Blvd. has grown into a regional holiday tradition through our partnership with Mercer University. The event continues to expand each year with new light displays, interactive features, and family-friendly experiences that encourage visitors to return throughout the season.

Light More Homes will be displayed throughout December, ignited by our Flip the Switch event taking place on the first Thursday of the month.

By sponsoring Light More Homes, your organization will:

- Connect with hundreds of community members during the holiday season.
- Demonstrate a visible commitment to affordable housing and neighborhood revitalization.
- Receive meaningful brand recognition through event signage, digital marketing, social media, and promotional materials (based on sponsorship level).
- Be part of a cherished community tradition that brings joy while creating lasting impact.
- When you sponsor Light More Homes, you're not just illuminating a holiday display – you are helping Habitat families flip the switch on a safe, affordable home of their own.
- lity tradition and Habitat's mission.

Women Build

Annual Habitat for Humanity Event

Women Build is an annual event that has been held in Middle Georgia for over 20 years. Corporate teams of women from across the globe volunteer for their area's Habitat affiliate and come together to sponsor, build, and dedicate a home. It is a unique partnership of female community leaders and companies focused on women as mentors and executives.

Women Build is held in Macon and Milledgeville annually during March and April.

Habitat Construction Model

Macon Milledgeville Habitat for Humanity is an affiliate of Habitat for Humanity International, an ecumenical Christian housing ministry devoted to ending substandard housing across the globe. Houses are built using volunteer labor and in-kind donations and then sold to partner families at no-interest and no-profit. Habitat homes are designed to be safe, secure and energy efficient for the families we serve. At the same time Habitat homes are designed to allow for volunteer involvement in every step of construction. The Habitat model welcomes anyone who has a heart for service to work on our job site. Skilled volunteers help move the construction timeline forward with their ability to work independently or lead small groups of volunteers on assigned tasks. Under the close supervision of our Construction team, volunteers with little to no construction experience are a valuable part of our mission and contribute greatly to the construction of our mission. There is a job and a place for everyone on our construction site.

Thematic Builds

- Women Build: An annual event held in Middle Georgia for over 20 years. Corporate teams of women from across the globe volunteer for their area's Habitat affiliate and come together to sponsor, build, and dedicate a home. It is a unique partnership of female community leaders and companies focused on women as mentors and executives.
- Board Build: This build is sponsored and planned by the MMRHFH Executive Board.
- Youth Build: A build completed in partnership with the Bibb County School District and funded through a YouthBuild grant. This build allows students to complete their high school diploma or earn their GED while completing requirements for a Construction Certificate through hands on experience on a Habitat job site.
- Blitz Build: With their professional experience, career homebuilders utilize their diverse trade skills and in-kind donations to fund and build a Habitat home.
- Faith Build: A home constructed through the prayers, volunteer and financial support of the local faith community.

We welcome our supporters to come spend time volunteering on a Build Site to see their gifts put into action! Connect with an Outreach Manager for opportunities.
